

Indian Institute of Information Technology, Design and Manufacturing, Kurnool

31st March, 2020

Dear Students,

In the wake of the unfortunate outbreak of Novel Covid-19 virus and on the directions and advisory of the Government of India, our institute was constrained to suspend the academic activities since March 16, 2020.

The students were advised to go home. Since the situation has not improved, it is decided to advance the summer vacation of the institute to First and second year students and reopen the institute for them tentatively after the vacation on 22nd June 2020.

The academic calendar has been revised and the revised calendar is enclosed. Institute has already initiated conduction of classes using online platform. I hope that you are all enjoying the learning through online teaching and assessment of theory courses of this semester. The remaining part of the laboratory classes will be conducted after the vacation followed by the examinations.

It is hoped that the situation will return back to normalcy and we will be able to commence the next academic year on July 20, 2020. It is not the best of the times and we all understand the gravity of the situation. Let us all work together to make up what is lost and work towards the betterment of our institute and the country.

The formal notice and information will be placed on the official website of the institute. All of you are advised to rely on the information published on the institute webpage only and keep away from rumors.
